WELCOME NOTE

Dear Colleagues,

Welcome to another edition of Funding Horizons, a compilation of useful information relating to funding opportunities at the Bangalore Life Science Cluster campus. This newsletter includes information on forthcoming funding deadlines, recent funding successes and more.

We hope this will be useful for you in planning your funding applications.

With Best Wishes, Savita Ayyar (on Behalf of Team RDO)

INSPIRING SCIENCE AWARDS

TNQ has announced the Inspiring Science Award for the best published scientific paper in Life Sciences from India.

The prize award includes a global travel fellowship to attend one of the Cell Symposia held annually at different locations around the world, the ISA trophy, and a citation. Top Six papers will be shortlisted and these candidates will receive a laptop, a citation, and will be invited to the Cell Press-TNQ India Distinguished Lectureship Series, where the prizes will be announced.

The Award and the Travel Fellowship is open to young scientists in the Life Sciences who have published a paper between 1st October, 2014 and 31st October, 2016. The scientist must be affiliated to a research institution or university based in India, where the work must have been conducted. Papers with co-authors (Indian or International) are also eligible for consideration. However, the Award/Travel fellowship will be made to the primary (first) author who is expected to be enrolled in a Graduate program or have secured his/her PhD degree not before 1st October 2012.

Details of the award can be accessed at: http://tnq.co.in/inspiring-science-award/index.php

Entries to the contest will close on 31st October, 2016.

THE WELLCOME TRUST, UK RESEARCH AWARDS

Investigator Awards in Science:

The Wellcome Trust, UK, has announced a call for Investigator awards in Science to support researchers working on important questions of relevance in the following themes:

- genetics and molecular science
- cellular and developmental science
- neuroscience and mental health
- infection and immuno-biology
- Physiology, population, environment and health

The scheme aims to support researchers at all stages of their independent research career. The research proposals should be distinct from, and not replace, activities already supported in the host organisation or by other awards.

The applicant should have a permanent, open-ended or long-term rolling contract, salaried by host organisation in the UK, Republic of Ireland or a low- or middle-income country (India eligible). Joint applications are also encouraged where a project will benefit from the complementary expertise of two researchers.

The level of funding is flexible and can be from under £500,000 to around £3 million for a duration of up to seven years, if appropriate. The scheme will provide necessary financial support for research expenses including staff, consumables, equipment, access charges, travel and other costs.

Details of the scheme can be accessed at: https://wellcome.ac.uk/funding/investigator-awards-science

Applications to this scheme are solicited twice a year. The deadline for submission of full application to the current round is 21st November, 2016.

Collaborative Awards in Science:

The Wellcome Trust, UK, has announced a call for Collaborative Awards to promote the development of new ideas and speed the pace of discovery by funding teams of independent researchers to work together on important scientific problems based on the relevant expertise and experience.

Team size should depend on the proposed research, but should generally have more than two applicants, and no more than seven. Members of the team should hold an academic position in eligible organizations in the UK, Republic of Ireland, or low- or middle-income countries (India eligible) and must have proven experience in collaborative research.

A Collaborative Award can be up to £4 million for up to five years based on the research proposed. The scheme supports research expenses directly related to the proposal including staff, consumables, equipment, access charges, travel and other costs.

Details of the scheme can be accessed at: https://wellcome.ac.uk/funding/collaborative-awards-science

Applications to this scheme are solicited three times a year. The deadline for submission of preliminary application is 17th November. 2016.

This section provides brief details of the recent funding successes from our campus.

We wish all the investigators well for their proposed programmes of research.

All correspondence on awarded grants should be directed to :

POSTDOC FUNDING WORKSHOP

The RDO in conjunction with the Academic Office organized the funding workshop for postdoctoral researchers on the campus on 8th September 2016. The workshop was well-received by the postdoc community. We hope to organize such workshops on a bi-annual basis.

Any suggestions/feedback regarding the funding workshop can be mailed at rdo@ncbs.res.in.

Details for various fellowship schemes for funding postdoctoral researchers (and deadlines information) can be accessed at: https://www.ncbs.res.in/rdo/sponsor-researcher. As per campus norms, applications from postdoctoral colleagues to externally funded competitive fellowships (SERB-N-PDF, IYBA, WT/IA-ECF, EMBO, HFSP), to be hosted at NCBS or inStem, require MANDATORY pre-screening by the Academic office. The procedure for pre-screening is detailed at the following link:

https://www.ncbs.res.in/academic/postdocextramural

Once the application is approved by the Academic Office, the grant submission to the agency is coordinated via the RDO.
